BASE BALL

Maple Syrup League Draws Big Crowds in Opening Games

The Maple Syrup League, comprising at present three teams—the Golf Avenue Tigers, High Street Bulldogs, and South Street Butterflies—have played four games to a total attendance of about 700, and the outlook is bright for a successful season in this hitherto base-ball-less town. The umpires officiating to date are Bean, Miller, Mower and Farrelly, and the staff may be increased, as the job is a considerable tax on their mental and physical powers.

Thursday evening's game was the best played one of the week, the South Street Butterflies subduing the Bulldogs in four exciting innings, 2 to 1. The cast of characters was somewhat changed. Dumas going into the box for the Butterflies and Fitzmorris and Mitchell doing the battery work for the Bulldogs. Umpire Farrelly.

The first game of the series last week Friday evening put the crowd on edge for more of that kind of base ball. Passed balls were plentiful, there were some errors and no end of enthusiasm. Pitchers Wyatt and Prior were pretty evenly matched, and hits were rare; the batsmen had to get a base in other ways. Pleasant got into the game after some years' retirement, and acquitted himself finely. Score, Tigers 3, Bulldogs 1.

The South Street Butterflies played the winners Tuesday evening. There was another big crowd and more enthusiasm. The Tigers had the best of it until the final inning, when the Butterflies gathered a few runs and tied the score. Darkness was coming on, and by agreement, The Age understands, the game ended, and was called a tie, though under the rules the score would revert to even innings, as the Tigers were entitled to another turn at the bat. Scorer Eaton, however, holds strictly to the rules and gives the Tigers the game.

The tie was played off Wednesday night, the Butterflies winning 6 to 5. Batteries, Wyatt and McFarlane, Liberty and Bean.
A spectacular double play, Mackenzie to Taylor to McFarlane, was the feature of Tuesday's game. Also the way Shortstop Peter Marsh covered the ground was a surprise and delight to the spectators.
The Maple Syrup League is planning a double header for Bennington Battle day, August 16, preceded by a parade of the teams led by the Woodstock band and escorted by Co. G of the National Guard. The morning game will be between the Tigers and Bulldogs, the Butterflies playing the winning team in the afternoon.

Universalist Old Home Sunday

Interest in the observance of Sunday, August 7, as Old Home Day continues to grow. In addition to the reminiscences to be given of the church, a brief story will be told of Universalist literature published in Woodstock. There was much making of books here in early days. A paper was published here for 18 years in the interests of Universalism which was also devoted in part to general news. Among the books published was a Greek lexicon, edited by Samuel Loveland and printed by David Watson. The writer of these notes has long wished to secure one of these books. If plans carry as hoped, there will be a case in the church that Sunday containing old papers and books. If any of our people have such, we shall be glad to have them brought. Care will be taken of them all.

The ladies of the church will serve coffee and ice water for all at the dinner hour. The choir and orchestra are busy rehearsing. Beautiful cards with our profession of faith printed on them will be used in the afternoon service, and given to all present to carry home with them.
The writer of these notes is in Maine a few days renewing old friendships and having a happy time. With the pastor of the church she will return early next week, in order that everything may be done to make Old Home day a complete success. Come and enjoy the services with us.

Town and Village Schools

The school board has engaged nearly all of the old corps of teachers in the town and village schools for the coming year. Only one change occurs in the village schools. Miss Sheldon, of the second primary, has resigned, and her place will be taken by Miss Whitcomb, who taught in the first primary last year. Miss Fitts will have charge of the first primary.

Miss Houghton has been engaged for the school at West Woodstock, formerly taught by Miss Fitts; Mrs. Morgan goes to the Branch school and Miss Emma Elbridge of Quechee has been engaged to teach the Tafts-ville school.

The school board is making repairs on the West Woodstock school building, and new floors are being laid at the Lincoln and Prosper schools.

At Camp Billings

The first part of the annual outing of Camp Billings under the auspices of the Windsor county Y. M. C. A. closed Wednesday noon under the direction of Secretary Hurd. Upwards of 60 boys have had a happy and helpful 10 days. In addition to the water and field sports and routine of camp life there were as features this year a hike to Copperfield and a night on the mountain; a course in nature study under Professor Morse of Wellesey, and first aid to the injured; lessons in swimming, supervised by Mr. Delehanty of the Springfield Training college. The week for men opened upon the departure of the boys.

WOODSTOCK NOTES

The sweltering, over-done weather of last Sunday has been followed by a rise in temperature, and several showers have contributed to mid-summer comfort.

The current issue of the Vermonter is filled with Green Mountain subjects, pictures and text. Ascutney is shown in several illustrations, and other well-known peaks are pictured.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Farwell and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Abbott are at Lake Morey for two weeks, taking a cottage there. Fred Sheldon is with them.

Miss Fitzmorris was given a shower party at the home of Miss Ida Bradley Thursday evening of last week, receiving many gifts of porcelain and agate ware.

Woodstock seems to be on the route of the tour now being mapped out by the Automobile Touring Club of America. The trip is from New York to Portland, Me., following the shore to the tip of Cape Cod; back to Boston, and up the Maine shore, thence to the White Mountains. From Bretton Woods the tour leads to White River Junction, to Rutland and Manchester; thence to Saratoga and by picturesque route to Coopers-town, thence through the Catskill region by way of Phoenicia to Kingston and New York.

The members of the Lakota club will hold their annual meeting and dinner Friday afternoon, August 5.

Forepaugh & Sells Bros. circus at White River Junction Friday, August 6.

The Congregational Sunday school had a picnic at Dearborn park Thursday, the children and others being conveyed part of the way by automobile. It was a pleasant outing, the children amusing themselves with games, which of course included a ball game. The attendance of young people was larger than on any similar occasion for many years, and the committee in charge made every arrangement for their pleasure.

W. N. Campbell and Miss Campbell have been at Brookmead farm for two weeks, returning here Wednesday.

Melvin J. Holt of South Woodstock was elected vice-president of the Vermont state league of fourth class postmasters at the annual convention held in Montpelier last week.

The school board have furnished for their large two-story brick school house building in North Bennington, Vt., not only a strong four-posted steel balcony "fire escape," running by all school rooms on the second floor, as state law requires, but have furnished same for first floor, the same distance from ground as in Woodstock school building, (about ten feet) with landings as law requires, owing to believing that fire is as little likely to occur in cellar and on first floor halls as in halls above.

QUESTION, should not the school board of Woodstock keep in line (up to date) with Bennington school board?

ments of automobiles. Five substantial posts were put there and connected by a rail and woven wire fencing. The horse reared, jumped and nearly hurdled the obstruction, but was caught and held by his harness. The rig was little damaged by the feat.

The three nature classes under the instruction of Prof. A. P. Morse begin their studies with about a dozen members each. The classes are for boys, girls and adults, and the young pupils are enthusiastic in the pursuit of birds and bugs. A number of colored drawings of birds by Prof. Morse, and collections of insects and other specimens are now on view at the Arts and Crafts room.

Three men were brought to the county jail from White River Junction Saturday by Officer Hoar, having been arrested for loitering about the union station. They were unable to pay the fine of $2 and costs each, imposed by Justice Darrah. The men gave their names as Fred Campbell, who said he was from Providence, R. I., Frank Brown of Montpelier and William Green of Suncook, N. H. None of the men were strikers.

Dr. Spiller will be in Woodstock at J. C. Nutting's August 6; Hartford August 8; Windsor August 9; at John Hager's, Perkinsville, August 11.

Fred H. Reed lost the third finger of his right hand as the result of an accident at Benson's mill Thursday. He started to take a piece of wood from a circular saw when the saw caught his hand. The first and second fingers were badly cut and another was mutilated so that amputation was necessary.

William S. Hewitt, Miss Hewitt, and Miss Mitchell have passed the week in Barnard.

Mrs. F. W. Howes and Mrs. Charlotte Parry of Amesbury, Mass., are camping with Mrs. F. H. Gillingham at Deering Ponds in Plymouth.

Mrs. J. B. Jones and Miss Ellen Jones are at Beach Bluff, Mass., for a few weeks.
